Photographic Copy of Original Judiciary Recall Section Will Be Attached to a Senate Resolution to Be Adopted

PROGRAM HAS BEEN ARRANGED

This Resolution and Another Providing for Ratification of Income Tax Amendment Will Be Rushed Through

There was nothing to it yesterday but unless somehow it is pulled out before 1 o'clock today the half-raising stunts will begin and before sundown every judge in the state of Arizona and every man who has a few dollars and sixty cents will have license to tremble in his shoes, if he is at all nervous in his temperament. Rules have been adopted sufficient for the legal transaction of legislative business and as soon as the decks are cleared for action this morning a concurrent resolution will be introduced in both houses, submitting to the people an amendment to the constitution providing for the recall of judges, and it will be passed quicker than either President Taft or the proletariat can say Jack Robinson. Before the smoke clears away a joint resolution will drift in, to the effect that Arizona endorse the proposed sixteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, providing for an income tax. Thirty-one states have already endorsed it and only five more are needed. There will be one less today and the time has arrived for the plutocrats to throw up their hands, or at least stand up and be counted.

Anyhow, that was the frame-up last night. That the legislature would do this very thing very early in the session has been expected, but it was left for the genius of Homer Wood, councilman from Yavapai to inject the spectacular coloring into the project. That is the reason no more was done yesterday. It had been planned to do nothing else until these matters had been worked out of the legislative system. The houses were organized and everything put in readiness, but with a clean slate until the soda pop, root beer or whatever the medicine was, should get the gentlemen in condition for the effort, and now they are ready.

It would seem to the ordinary person that this state of preparedness ought not to be hard to attain but the ordinary person has little knowledge of just how thoroughly the work was to be done. The democratic brethren went before the people pledged to put back the recall provision eliminated last December, precisely in the same form it appeared in the original constitution and they propose to redeem that pledge or bust their galluses. Homer Wood took the trouble to secure from the archives the identical official copy of the original constitution, and swearing in blood that he would return the sacred document to its proper custodian he sought the lair of a photographer, where he had the recall section reproduced with every pen-scratch, smear and fly speck, together with the yellow spots made by the tears in which it was bathed when it was found the section was for the time being to be ineffective.

One of these photographic reproductions will form the body of the resolution that is to be introduced in each house this morning as soon as the prayers of the chaplains cease their echoing and Mr. Wood can gain recognition of President Cumfitt and Judge Wren of Yavapai can detect the nod of Speaker Bradner.

After this deed has been done C. B. Wood will seize the earliest opportunity in the senate and Don Babbitt in the house, to present Arizona's formal ratification of the sixteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States. These gentlemen did not have time to send for the original copy in Washington to incorporate a picture in their resolution, but will have to express their sentiments in the artistic hand of an official typist.

Yesterday's Work
It would be a mean and fault-finding person who would take exception to anything the Arizona legislature did yesterday. More than that, he would be a genius for the sum total of important action consisted in the adoption by both houses of the rules of the twenty-fifth legislative assembly, temporary, until the respective houses can formulate new rules, better to their liking.

Instead of being critical one should be complimentary if it were necessary for any comment, for the gentlemen displayed greater promptness than at any time heretofore. The senate began business promptly at 1 o'clock, the advertised hour, and the house was only five minutes late.

The senate opened in due form with roll call, prayer and the reading of the minutes, took the action referred to and adjourned to meet again today at the same hour.

The house did a little better, for in

Army Officer Says the Conditions in Mexico Are Not as Bad as Reported

[Associated Press Dispatch]

EL PASO, March 20.—A street demonstration occurred in Juarez this afternoon, when it became known that the embargo on munitions of war will hereafter be construed on the American side as including food as well as arms and ammunition—in fact, everything a soldier needs. The demonstration was started by a saloonkeeper commonly called "Big Pete." He walked into the middle of the street in front of his place, and seeing a number of Americans, began a tirade against them. As the crowd of Mexicans grew larger the Americans worked their way out and lost no time in getting to the international bridge.

After the departure of Gen. Rojas this afternoon, leaving a garrison of 600 under Pascual Orozco, the saloons opened for the first time in weeks. The word was passed to El Paso tonight that it would be unwise to cross to the Mexican side, where the gambling halls offer attraction. Many are here for the races. James McKay and John Thomas, Americans, and James Costa, a Mexican, were arrested by the soldiers while trying to smuggle cartridges into Juarez. The cartridges were secreted in their clothing.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Unless some arrangements are made soon to permit the shipment of explosives into Mexico, the large mining industry probably will be compelled to suspend. Col. Steever, in charge of the military at El Paso, reported to the war department today that 90,000 pounds of dynamite, consigned to commercial organizations in Mexico, is being held, in compliance with President Taft's proclamation prohibiting explosive materials of all kinds being taken across the border. Steever's action in holding up the explosive has been approved. Notwithstanding representations that it was destined to mine and that it was to be thrown out of work and into the rebel forces, it was stated that no exception can be made by President Taft's proclamation. Officials feared the dynamite would be seized by the rebels and used to blow up bridges.

An army officer who returned from Panama today by way of Vera Cruz and the City of Mexico reported to the general staff that the situation there is not so serious as it has been made to appear.

CANANEA, March 20.—A Montenegro band of rebels was routed late Tuesday near Santa Rosa ranch by Capt. Alvarado and his rurales. The brief details received state that the rurales are pursuing the band.

CHIHUAHUA, March 20.—Nine miles separate the advance guards of the two armies tonight. Salazar's column of rebels is mobilized in and about Jimenez today. A train load of federals, guarding the bridge repair crew, advanced into the state of Chihuahua as far as Zavala, 65 miles south of Jimenez.

Minimum Wage Bill is Having Rocky Road to Travel.

[Associated Press Dispatch]
LONDON, March 20.—The fate of the minimum wage bill seems to be trembling in the balance. A. J. Balfour, on behalf of the unionists, will move the rejection of the bill in the house of commons tomorrow, but there is little doubt the government can carry the second reading of the bill, as the labor party and nationalists have decided to give it their support. A cabinet council will be held tomorrow to consider the situation.

GREAT VICTORY.

La Follette Carried 34 Counties in Dakota, Roosevelt 15.

[Associated Press Dispatch]
GRAND FORKS, March 20.—La Follette's majority in the North Dakota primary is between eleven and twelve thousand. Forty-four counties reported returns from 1,092 precincts out of 1,613, giving La Follette 22,648, Roosevelt 14,929. Out of forty-nine counties in the state Roosevelt carried 15 and La Follette the remainder. Taft's vote, judging by present indications will be less than 2,000.

ENFORCE QUARANTINE

Conflict of Authority has Resulted From the Smallpox Situation in City of Douglas.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

DOUGLAS, March 20.—There is a conflict among the state, county and city health authorities here with the result the smallpox situation may result in the calling out of the militia to enforce the quarantine. Dr. Looney, state superintendent of health, and Dr. Miner, county health officer, ordered the schools and theaters to be closed, several days ago because of the prevalence of the disease. City health officer Greene declared the epidemic over Monday and ordered the schools and theaters re-opened. Looney says they must close if he has to call out the militia to enforce the order. An indignation meeting of citizens is called for tomorrow.

MINERS WILL CEASE LABOR

Two Hundred Thousand of Them in the Bituminous Field Are Expected to Lay Down Their Picks on April 1

[Associated Press Dispatch]

CLEVELAND, March 20.—All mines in the bituminous fields of Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Illinois will close down April 1, and 200,000 men here and out of work, according to the operators and miners, who conferred here today. It will not be a strike, it is announced, but merely a suspension pending negotiations for a working scale for the next two years to succeed the present scale, which expires March 31. President White, of the miners, said the union men had come to meet the operators on friendly terms but intended to demand their demands. These are ten cents increase a ton, mining of all coal on a tonnage basis, and pay day every week instead of twice monthly. The operators claim the demands are equal to a 20 per cent increase and they are not able to grant them. It is agreed by both sides a strike is not wanted, but owing to the lateness of negotiations, it is certain work will have to suspend at least two weeks.

It was said tonight that lack of a wage scale in the central states would leave the question for bituminous miners in other states without a basis within which to work, and would entail idleness on more than three hundred and fifty thousand miners. In the readjustment on this basis the miners demand an increase of ten cents a ton over the average price now paid. They also want shorter working hours. As an offset to these demands the operators want a reduction from the present rate. The number of men in the mines involved are: Western Pennsylvania, sixty thousand miners, two hundred and fifty mines; Ohio, forty-seven thousand miners, four hundred and fifty mines; Indiana, twenty-two thousand miners, one hundred and forty-seven mines; Illinois, seventy-two thousand miners, three hundred and twenty mines. The number of miners in other states who, it is said, necessarily will have to suspend work because of the lack of a fixed basis for agreements, which will all expire April 1, are: Oklahoma, Missouri, Arkansas and Kansas, comprising the southwestern district, thirty thousand miners; Iowa, fifteen thousand; Michigan, ten thousand. Operators assert the suspension of the mines which employ union men will leave work in Kentucky, Alabama, West Virginia, Central Pennsylvania, and Tennessee, where about three hundred thousand miners are not enrolled in the union.

Alleged Sale of Legislative Votes is Told in Detail to the Committee

Defense Claims the Men Were Trapped and Are Innocent of All Wrongdoing

[Associated Press Dispatch]

SANTA FE, March 20.—Mounted Policemen A. A. Serna, testifying this afternoon before the committee of fifteen, conducting the investigation into the bribery charges against four members of the house, related incidents leading to the arrest of Representatives Lucero, Trullio, Montoya and Cordova, on a charge of soliciting and accepting a bribe. Questions propounded by the defense indicate counsel will seek to establish the fact that a conspiracy existed to get the four legislators out of the way because they would not vote a certain way in the senatorial contest. The men were arranged before District Judge David J. Leahy tonight. They waived a preliminary examination and a bail was fixed at two hundred dollars each. The house hearings brought out the fact that the men had been in jail two nights and days without being served with warrants and without commitment papers. Serna in his testimony, told of having heard a conversation between Elfege Baca, the prosecuting witness, and the four defendants in the Palace hotel, in which the defendants promised to vote for any candidate for the senate Baca might designate but would not agree to vote for a second candidate he might designate.

He declared when the money passed Baca clamped his hands on a signal, and the witnesses, Venecio Jaramillo and Jose Serna, who were waiting in an adjoining bathroom, stepped in. The witness said he took the money, relating how part of it had been thrust under a bed quilt.

He told of recovering a twenty-dollar gold piece half an hour after the arrests from Lucero who had it in his vest pocket. Lucero he said explained its presence there by saying he was so frightened that he reached in his vest pocket for a toy pistol he was accustomed to carry there. Serna testified Lucero asked for forgiveness of State Chairman Jaramillo, saying if he might do so. The witness then narrated a conversation he said he had with Montoya previous to March 18, repeating a rumor that a certain senatorial candidate was trying to buy up the legislature. When objection was made to street rumors, Attorney Wright, for the committee, contended the conversation should be put in simple warning that defendants had not been playing under the old rules. In the conversation referred to, Montoya, the witness testified, had said, "No one has tried to buy me." The committee adjourned until tomorrow afternoon.

Police Believe They Have the Murderer of Two Women Prospectors Who Were Killed in Riverside County

RIVERSIDE, March 20.—With the arrest late last night of a Belgian, Frank Bauwaraerts, the authorities believe they have the murderer of Mrs. Harriette Guyot, 59, and Miss Julia Francois, 19, slain in an isolated mining camp in the south-eastern section of Riverside county. The suspect was arrested at Imperial Junction as he was about to board a train for Yuma.

The women came from Portland in November, accompanied by Bauwaraerts to develop a mining property. D. C. Putnam, a prospector, declared he saw the Belgian digging in a sand. Later he received a note from him saying the women had gone to Los Angeles. Putnam went to the place where he saw the Belgian digging and discovered the bodies of the women buried in a shallow grave. Putnam walked thirty miles with a rifle seeking the Belgian, and finally got word to a deputy sheriff at Imperial Junction. Bauwaraerts said he met the women in Portland and the elder stated him to $550 to go prospecting.

Mrs. Guyot would not accompany him south unless the girl accompanied her. Robbery, supposed to be the motive, The Belgian, when questioned tonight, declared Putnam killed woman

ONCE MORE THE BIG
AUTOMOBILE PARADE

Let the Boosters Remember It Occurs Next Saturday Night.

Attention is again called to the fact that next Saturday night is the occasion of the big automobile parade from 8 to 10 o'clock, and the festive street dancing in front of the Hotel Adams from 10 to 12 o'clock. It is suggested by Secretary Welch that the city gets its street sweepers in commission in time, it can help the parade out some by exhibiting them and thus advertising the fact that Phoenix has not only got paved streets, but proposes to keep them clean.

Again it is announced that it is desired that every automobile in the county shall be in the big parade, and that those who can take the time to do so, decorate their machines and compete for prizes. The prize list as announced some time ago still stands, and there will be numerous chances, some for the best dressed, some for the most novel and some for tricks.

Anybody desiring further information as to prizes, parade course or anything else pertaining to the big show, is invited to call at the board of trade.

DEMOCRATS ARE

They Seem to Think That the United States May Not Be Able to Pay the Expense of Secretary Knox's Trip

[Associated Press Dispatch]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The house committee on state department expenditures is investigating statements that Secretary Knox uses as a private servant Archibald S. Pinkert, a negro, carried on the state department rolls and that Pinkert is accompanying Knox as a valet on his present tour. He is carried on the rolls of the mailing rooms at twelve hundred dollars a year. The committee also inquired into the matter of defraying the expenses of the secretary's Central American trip and statements were made by the controller Tracewell that it could not be paid out of the secret emergency or diplomatic funds, but might come out of the horse stable fund of the department, which is eight thousand dollars. It was stated the horse stable fund would not pay one-sixteenth part of the trip.

"Where will the money come from?" Chairman Hamlin asked. "I don't know," Clerk McNier replied. State department officials said today Knox's expenses are being paid from an emergency fund provided from the regular diplomatic and consular appropriation. The fund is "to enable the president to meet unforeseen emergencies arising in the diplomatic and consular service and extend commercial and other interests of the United States, ninety-thousand dollars."

Roosevelt Manager Tries to Extract Comfort From His Late Crushing Defeat

LA FOLLETTE IS QUITE GLEEFUL

McKinley Says President Taft's Position as to Primary Was Sustained

[Associated Press Dispatch]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Senator Dixon, manager for the Roosevelt campaign, said the North Dakota primary result was a severe blow for President Taft.

"But one voter in forty expressed the wish that Taft be the nominee," said Dixon. "No such defeat of a presidential candidate, asking for a re-nomination has ever been witnessed in American politics. Ten delegates said several days ago that if elected they would support Roosevelt when shown LaFollette could not be nominated. They can safely be put in the Roosevelt column."

Director McKinley, at Taft campaign headquarters, characterized the primary as an indication of what might happen in a "soap-box" primary. He quoted J. F. Bass, manager of the Roosevelt campaign in North Dakota, who said the democrats voted for LaFollette. "This is exactly what the managers of the Taft bureau have attempted to impress upon the country from the outset of the campaign," said McKinley. "In this instance there was a state law, but without the party enrollment feature. In the absence of a state law, 'soap-box' primary rules prevail and the contest degenerates into a national scandal, in which the republican party itself plays a minor role."

A statement today from the LaFollette national headquarters says that in Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oregon, California and other states, LaFollette's candidacy will be submitted as it was in North Dakota.

"The decisive victory is the more impressive," said the statement, "when it is borne in mind that in North Dakota the Roosevelt candidacy united the standpaters and all the progressives that the misleading character of the colone's campaign could induce to desert LaFollette."

"That this unholy alliance was so signally defeated in North Dakota may be taken as an indication of what will be done in other popular primary states."

DES MOINES, March 20.—Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, has authorized the statement that Speaker Clark will be asked to withdraw in favor of Woodrow Wilson from participating in the Nebraska presidential primary. He said the Nebraska Progressive league, prior to the Bryan birthday banquet last night, adopted a resolution calling on the speaker not to allow his name to go before the voters. "In view of the rival candidacies of Wilson and Judson Harmon."

CHICAGO, March 20.—United States Attorney James Wilkerson today demanded the conviction of the ten packers charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law in his closing address to the jury. He declared the government had proved beyond all doubt every offense charged in the indictment.

"The Sherman law is not a fog through which the interstate commerce ship has been sailing. The real fog has been contempt for disobedience of law," he said.

GOVERNOR GIVES UP HIS FIGHT

He Had to Surrender His Economy Demands in the Interest of His Own Office

[Associated Press Dispatch]

The chances are there will be things doing good and plenty in the lower house of the legislature this afternoon. Speaker Bradner will likely announce the committee assignments; and therein there is a strong probability that he will show his undying love for the Lynch supporters. There are twenty-five house committees and only sixteen real, sure-enough, blown in the bottle Bradner men. When the Bradnerites are taken care of with chairmanships, there will be nine remaining. Just what is to be done with these is likely causing Mr. Bradner and Governor Hunt, with reference to whose wishes all moves in the house are made, considerable perplexity.

It is persistently denied by the thick-and-thin supporters of the administration that there was such a thing as the application of the steam roller in the election of Bradner and the organization of the house. But every sensible man—in fact every man who knows enough to keep his eyes and ears open—knows that there was one of the prettiest exhibitions of the steam roller in politics ever witnessed in a pre-legislative fight. By threats and cajolery, by promises of the bestowal of patronage here and threats of its withdrawal there—the election of Bradner was forced by the administration. Anybody who doubts the existence of the steam roller should watch the committee appointments tomorrow and he may learn a few edifying facts.

Rumors were flying about the capitol yesterday that Hunt has backed down in his economy program completely. The long list of house attaches will be preserved intact. And the reason is a very simple one. Mr. Hunt is not in position to say a great deal on the subject of employees. At the present writing his excellency has five employees in his own office, whereas Governor Sloan managed to get along and do all necessary work with two. And that doesn't tell the whole story. Hunt not only has five persons attached to the governor's office, but some of them will be paid for overtime, it is said. In point of expense, then, the governor's office, so far as the attaches are concerned, is said to be costing the state about three and a half times what it cost under Governor Sloan's administration.

There is some actual economy manifest in the senate; but this is more than overbalanced by the house and the executive office, where employees are as plentiful as mosquitoes in the vicinity of a Jersey swamp.

It's all quite funny. To be sure it will go rather hard with the pocket-books of the taxpayers; but when these same taxpayers once wake up to the political gold brick that has been handed them there is a strong probability that there will be some "doings" in Arizona that will make all the state's past experiences look as tame as a kid's game of numblety-peg.

President Reassured Regarding Report of Accident to His Wife.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—President Taft returned to the White House today after two days' stay in New England. Report of the accident to Mrs. Taft in New York kept the president waiting in a room of the Union Station 15 minutes while he talked with his brother Henry over the long distance telephone, who reassured him. Mrs. Taft stepped on her dress as she was alighting from a wheeled chair at the Women's Industrial exhibit in the Grand Central Palace this afternoon, and fell to the floor. She was uninjured.
